Three Members Oppose Changes by New Administration in Assignments of Departmental Work

Two heads were lopped off, said the board, Mrs. Harriet Hawes and Miss Annie Florence Brown. Miss Brown was particularly strenuous in her endeavor to have the board call upon the district attorney's office to enforce a recent opinion which, if correct, makes the position and salary changes of last evening illegal and ineffective.

British Workers Scorn Sympathy With Teuton

By Associated Press. LONDON, July 2, 2:30 p. m.—The trade unionists of Great Britain today dismissed today with contempt the suggestion that a vote of sympathy be given to the German government in its trade at the annual conference of the federation now in session at Derby.

"Drop such sentimental bosh," was the prompt demand made by Ben Tillet, the fighting head of a number of leading unions.

One of the other delegates declared: "British workmen whose sons are at the front are so bitter on account of the German outrages that they would hardly be content with anything less than the wiping out of the German people."

Loud cries of "Next business" burst the proposal to pass a vote of sympathy with the German trade unionists.

ARMENIAN SINKING MAY BE JUSTIFIED

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, July 2.—Tension over destruction of the British steamer Armenian with the loss of a number of American lives was considerably relaxed today following the receipt of unofficial advice telling of the apparent refusal of the ship's commander to heed the warning of the German submarine to stop.

If official reports should bear out news dispatches concerning attempts of the Armenian to escape, it was said, no new cause of complaint likely would be added to issues pending between the United States and Germany.

WAR SUMMARY

The Germans are hammering away at the French lines in the Argonne region in the apparent hope of breaking through and reaching Verdun. The latest French statement shows a further attempt to advance through the Argonne, which the French assert were repulsed.

In the British capital it is believed that the Teutons' ill-fated first decisive victory over the Russians, culminating in the capture of Warsaw before sending troops from the east front to the west. In the east the Austro-Germans continue their sweeping advances.

Five more British vessels, three of them steamers of considerable size, have fallen victims to German submarine warfare. Evidence of the progress of this warfare on a large scale have recently come to hand with frequency. Accounts of lives lost in the attacks by the under-sea boats, however, have been lacking in most instances, the case of the Armenian.

In the fighting in the east there is no indication even in the Russian official statement that there is any halt in the sweep of the Teutonic armies northward and eastward from Lemberg. Further south, however, the troops of the Grand Duke Nicholas have made what looks like a determined stand along the line of the Gnila Lipa river.

ILLNESS CAUSES ORDER OF COURT

All Cases Continued by Reason of Police Judge Sullivan's Indisposition.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—Owing to the illness of Police Judge Sullivan, who was unable to appear in the Hall of Justice today, the cases against Alonzo Persalta, accused of violating section 474 A of the Penal Code, was postponed this morning.

The court's hall took the calendar to Judge Sullivan's home, where the order of continuing all of the cases was made. This was necessary as two other police judges are on vacation.

Persalta was arrested on complaint of Mrs. Grace Revell, who claims that Persalta obtained money from her under false pretenses.

GIRL AT BREAKFAST TABLE, WIFE DIVORCED

NEW YORK, July 2.—A breakfast table conversation in a Kansas City hotel, resulted in a divorce for Mrs. H. J. Fleischmann, a fifth avenue florist, from Paul M. Corn, a moving picture film manufacturer.

Mrs. Corn told the court that she never would have known of her husband's infatuation for his secretary, a woman much older than Mrs. Corn, save for the fact that Corn invited his best friend, Joseph Gliden, to have breakfast in Kansas City.

"When we reached the table," Gliden told Justice Weeks, "there was a table for three. He said the third member was his secretary. She came down soon and we breakfasted."

Well, there was a funny mix-up about the whole matter, for after Corn introduced me to his secretary—I've forgotten her name—I chanced to glance over the hotel register and I saw the entry, "Paul Corn and wife." I knew there was something up. They didn't like to be called Mrs. Corn and her secretary. Their conversation was altogether too mushy for that. She looked like a battle."

"Never mind," interrupted the court.

WAGON WITH HISTORY IS HIDDEN IN CELLAR

SALT LAKE, July 2.—A nearly half a century old, Thomas R. Raddon, 335 F street, has had a cell in the cellar of his home, the first wagon he ever owned. When his father bought the wagon in a raffle held by a local firm that was then beginning business, it was a new model. It was a four-wheeled wagon with a top and a seat. It was worth from $250 to $350 each; but although having no use for the vehicle and no horses to draw it he refused many offers of would-be purchasers. Instead he had the wagon taken to his home, where it has since remained.

The firm that manufactured the wagon, in their endeavor to regain it, have repeatedly offered Raddon automobile prices for the wagon, but he refuses to part with his prize. He gives no reason for wishing to retain it, even unwilling to part with the carriage long enough that it may be exhibited at a fair. Neither will he give curious visitors any more than a deep into the cellar where it is kept.

In spite of the many years Raddon has had the wagon it is in a perfect state of preservation. The coat of varnish gleams when it is still on, and all the parts are as round and whole as they were, and, with the exception of the improvements that have been made in the early 40s and concluded that, such publication was entitled to the credit of priority.

Recently Skaviem had occasion to visit an aged woman, Balford, and lay down on the center table in her home a copy of the much desired book, which had been handed down in her family and carefully preserved.

FIRST NORWEGIAN BOOK FOUND IN WISCONSIN

MADISON, Wis., July 2.—A copy of the first Norwegian book printed in America has just been discovered in Beloit, Wis., by H. L. Skaviem of Fannville, Wis., a Norwegian antiquarian, naturalist and author.

This first book was a reprint of Pontoppidan's "Porkland," a sort of expanded catechism of the Lutheran creed, and was printed in New York city in 1852 under the direction of Elling Eileson, a pioneer Norwegian evangelist, and the first Norwegian Lutheran minister to be ordained in America.

For some time it was uncertain as to which was the first Norwegian book printed in this country. Some years ago, however, Professor Rasmus B. Anderson, former United States minister to Denmark, came across a reference made by Eileson to a book printed by him in the early 40s and concluded that, such publication was entitled to the credit of priority.

Recently Skaviem had occasion to visit an aged woman, Balford, and lay down on the center table in her home a copy of the much desired book, which had been handed down in her family and carefully preserved.

Attempt to Ship Liquor Into Arizona Foiled

By Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, July 2.—Through the arrest today of Fred Lavin, United States officials discovered a scheme to ship liquor into prohibition Arizona as baggage. Lavin was arrested for violating interstate commerce laws, in not having properly labeled goods in transit.

The arrest of Lavin followed his attempt to procure a refund of a ticket to Tucson. The scheme, according to federal agents, was to buy tickets, check trunk loads of liquor as baggage and then turn in the tickets for refunds. A number of men here and in Arizona who are said to have extensively employed this means of circumventing the strict Arizona prohibition law are under surveillance.

Philosophy.

CANTON, O., July 2.—Funeral services without mourning, with a ban on the wearing of black and deathlike ordinarily prevailing at such services, marked the burial of Mrs. Martha Zwick, of this city, who came from one of Philadelphia's earlier Quaker families.

This change from custom was at the wish of Mrs. Zwick, who was always had as a devotee of the new thought philosophy of life here and now.

The cause of temperance she stood in the front of, giving her influence in every possible way to strengthen others in holding this principle. She had been a member of the new thought philosophy, representing its vital teachings, all her life. One of the staunchest hopes was centered in the peace movement. She was confident the ideal of peace must take possession of the world.

Mrs. Zwick, who was 63 years old, believed human beings should express the sense of life here and now.

To do so, she believed, was the duty of every citizen. She believed the awakening of the world should be the duty of every citizen. She believed the awakening of the world should be the duty of every citizen.

He believed that automobiles are productive of poverty and he was taking a joke. He has lived in this country a half century, coming here from Virginia.

Their object is understood to be to get as much as possible before the Swiss government imposes a general embargo on food exports, which appears likely soon.

SETH MANN SUES FOR A DIVORCE

San Francisco Traffic Expert
Alleges His Wife Deserted Him

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2. — San Francisco Traffic expert of the Chamber of Commerce, and prominent politician, has filed suit for divorce against his wife, Mrs. L. H. Hume, alleging that she deserted him to reside in New York City, and refuses to make her home here.

Mann was chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee when Franklin K. Lane, Secretary of the Interior, was elected to the office in 1921. Mann was in Washington when Lane was presented with the portfolio of Secretary of the Interior. Mann was mentioned as a probable successor on the United States Interstate Community property valued at more than $100,000 is involved in the divorce suit of the Manns. Mann has property in different parts of the state, and his wife was actively interested in the management of the property before they separated and she went to live in New York.

PEACE PALACE SPEAKER DRAWS MIGHTY THRONGS

Large crowds met both attending the Peace Palace, Fourth and Franklin streets. The beautiful pavilion, flooded with indirect light, resembles a beehive night after night. Doubtless it is the finest thing of its kind in Oakland.

Speaking Evangelist McFord delivered a lecture on "The Signs of Christ's Coming in the Heavens," and said in part:

"When this war broke out, the sun refused to shine on the battlefields of Europe. This darkness did not cause undue alarm, for it was merely an eclipse. However, this was not the case May 19, 1780, when darkness covered almost all of New England. The darkness was a heavy portent."

dark day, because it was darkest day ever recorded. That day so resembled night that work was suspended in the field and shop. travel-o'clock, the cows went home to roost, the cattle went lowing to their barn, and throughout New England candles were lighted at dinner time.

"Of course, this created much alarm, and many thought it was the day of judgment. The darkness began about 9 a. m. and continued through the day. The people thought it was the day of judgment, for the sun was supernaturally darkened.

"Had it not been for the Bible, this darkness would have remained a mystery to this day. The Bible tells us that such an event was due at the time it appeared, and that it would be known as a sign of the coming of Christ."

The topic for tonight will be "Signs of Christ's Coming in the Earth."

AUTO VICTIM FOUND HELPLESS IN STREET

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—Unconscious and suffering from concussion of the brain and a broken right leg. L. M. Toder, of 42 Wolf street, was taken to the Central Emergency hospital this morning from Seventh and Market streets. He had apparently been run down by an automobile and left lying on the pavement. His money was on his person and there was nothing to indicate that he had been attacked by robbers. There were no marks to show that he had been run over, but his injuries were such that he might have been struck and thrown by a machine.

PELLAGRA CASES IN ARKANSAS MULTIPLY

By Associated Press.
LITTLE ROCK, Ark., July 2.—There are now 193 cases of pellagra under observation in Arkansas, according to Dr. W. W. Garrison, state health officer, who, with Dr. Joseph Goldberger of the United States public health service, has taken charge of a half-dozen towns where outbreaks have been reported. Dr. Garrison believes that cases not under observation in remote districts will double the cases of the disease known to exist.

'JUST SENT A CHECK FOR MY INSURANCE, BOB'

"And Still You're Sporting a New Suit, Will?"

"Say, where do you find all your cash these days, anyway? I'd be grateful if you'd tell me off on how you manage this show of prosperity."

"Well, I'm far from a rich man, myself, just now, Bob, but I figure it pays to look up-to-date and it's easy enough to manage that by going to CHERRY'S. Do you mean to say you don't know about CHERRY'S CREDIT SYSTEM?"

"Well, say, you've missed something, then! Why, I went up to CHERRY'S the other day with $10 and I came away with this stunning suit. Yes, that's the way it works, Bob. A part of the price goes down and the rest by the week or month."

"CHERRY'S have things down to a science when it comes to selling beautiful, up-to-date suits on terms amazingly easy. It's a place that has succeeded because it's so tremendously popular. It's always open Saturday evenings. CHERRY'S have two establishments in the city where you can get ARKON BRAND CLOTHES. One is at 315 Thirteenth street, exclusively for women, and the other at 523 Thirteenth St., exclusively for men. In San Francisco they have two stores, one at 1099 Market St. and the other at 2400 Mission St., and at each store they have garments for both men and women."—Advertisement.

NEUTRALITY NOT VIOLATED BY CO.

Commerce Department Holds Cleveland Concern Worded Ad. Unfavorably.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, July 2.—No intentional violation of neutrality was involved in the recent advertisement of a Cleveland, Ohio, machine company relating to the manufacture of poisonous shells, the Department of Commerce announced today. Investigation showed that the company in question does not manufacture explosives of any kind, but merely makes machines capable of use in the production of shells and ammunition. The department holds that the confusion was the result of unfortunate wording of the advertisement.

BAKER TO GAIN REST IN FABIOLA

Secretary to Ambassador Marye Enters Hospital for Recuperative Week.

Planning to gain a complete rest after his strenuous trip from Petrograd to England and then to America, bearing a letter from the czar to President Wilson, Ray T. Baker, secretary to Ambassador George T. Marye, has gone to Fabiola hospital, where he will remain for a week. Mr. Baker arrived in Oakland last week and is a guest at the home of Mrs. Cleveland Baker in Piedmont. His mother, Mrs. George W. Baker, and his brother, George Baker, met him in Reno.

"There is nothing the matter with Ray," declared Mrs. Baker this morning, "except that he needs a thorough rest. We thought he would be better able to rest in the hospital than at home. He will be there a week."

Baker reached Sweden after a trip from Petrograd around Finland, at the time the Arctic ice was breaking up. From there he reached London on a small steamer and finally sailed for America. He will shortly return to his post in Russia via the Orient. Ray Baker, who began his career in the Alameda county courthouse, was the warden at the Nevada state prison several years ago, inaugurating the "honor system" that has been adopted almost universally by prison reformers. Later he went to Washington, where he was appointed secretary to the ambassador to Russia.

FRIDAY, JULY 2, 1915.

MAYOR DAVIE'S MESSAGE.

There is matter worth consideration in Mr. Davie's inaugural message. The document ought to be read by every citizen in a spirit of detachment from partisan, factional or personal feeling—from prejudice of any kind. If Mr. Davie himself has not quite caught this spirit still there is no reason why others may not do it. Very heartily to be commended is the interest manifested by Mr. Davie and the community he makes with respect to the waterfront. He charges that there have been mistakes, wastes and inequities in the policies governing this department of our municipal interests. Possibly—we think probably—the charge may have some basis, perhaps some justification. It is beyond question that expenditures which should, under sound business policy, have been centered upon essential developments, have been scattered for the sake of placating and cajoling ward sentiment. This may have been deemed necessary upon considerations of political expediency; but it has not tended to the best results. If now Mr. Davie can enforce a policy founded severely in the needs of the situation, if he can correct mistakes and eliminate waste, he will perform an important public service.

There is in Mr. Davie's message a suggestion of inequity in the administration of waterfront and wharfage facilities. If this be so, and if Mr. Davie can correct what is at fault, again he will perform an important public service. A first requirement for the development of traffic must be a square deal, and if, under existing arrangements, one shipper may pass merchandise over the waterfront at one rate, while another must pay a higher rate, then there is something essentially wrong in the adjustment. But without inquiring specifically into Mr. Davie's pronouncements, it is gratifying to learn that he regards our water facility in its true light. In the affairs of Oakland there is no more vital consideration, and the mayor's personal interest in it and his pledge in connection with it are proper matters for public felicitation.

Mr. Davie declares that there are wastes and leaks in various departments of the municipal government. If he can find extravagances—and we think it quite possible—and correct them, again he will have done a public service. There will be no contention with Mr. Davie on the part of anybody that the community is finding the burden of taxation a serious one, a limitation upon business, and a blight upon property values. Now if, without impairing the efficiencies of municipal service, Mr. Davie can cut down the costs of government, and reduce the percentage of taxation, he will have done a great work; and he will be entitled to and will receive the commendation of a community which naturally wants to be taxed as low as possible and which wants upon every account to have its business conducted in prudent and economical ways.

Another clause in Mr. Davie's message especially worth attention is his plan for charter revision. The suggestion is not new. The matter has been under consideration publicly—and privately—for a long time. One leading citizen, in conjunction with a group of earnest associates, has gone so far as to prepare a definite scheme of revision. The issue is upon us and it is gratifying to know that Mr. Davie sees the importance of it. He suggests a plan of his own for formulating a new charter, one distinctly in line with the ideals of representative government. On this point he says:

With the approval of the Council, at an early date I propose to appoint a citizens' advisory commission whose function shall be to investigate particular questions of public policy and make recommendations to the Council. On this commission I would propose to appoint representatives of all classes in order that the results arrived at might be fairly considered the composite view of the citizens generally. It would not represent the desires of the whole people. To this citizens' advisory commission may be referred the question of harbor front administration, charter revision, general policy on public improvements, publicity, etc.

If Mr. Davie will be as good as his word, and if his selections of citizen advisers shall be in the spirit of this pledge, a long step will have been taken in the right direction. We know of no better way to formulate municipal policies in relation to a new charter or to any other public interest, than by consultation with "representatives of all classes." The advisory commission plan of Mr. Davie is essentially a good one. In this connection the mayor's project may be interpreted as a rejection, so far as official favor may be concerned, of Mr. Regua's plan. Evidently the mayor is not to "sit in" with volunteer and uninvited advisers. Quite as evidently, he proposes himself to occupy the mayor's chair in the fullest sense.

We repeat that Mr. Davie's message is worthy of attention. Every property owner, every citizen, ought to read it and consider it apart from personal, political or other bias—with regard solely to its suggestions and pledges as they relate to the welfare of Oakland.

DOMESTIC INDUSTRIES—AN OUTLOOK.

Chairman Joseph E. Davies of the Federal Trade Commission describes the purposes of the commission in these terms: "Its purpose is not to harass but to help, not to make a legalistic record, but to bring relief and aid; to efficiently serve the public interest and to bring 'free will' to the competitor injured before the patient is exhausted by long drawn out technicalities of legal action."

Very good, Mr. Davies! You foresee quite a job for the future. The European war has revealed the urgent need in this country of certain permanent, self-sustained industries for the production of such supplies as the war has isolated us from. We have come to realize that the United States is not as versatile and cosmopolitan in producing all the necessities of the life of the nation as many of us supposed. One of the historic and much discussed disabilities in this connection is the lower cost of production of manufactured articles in Europe and Great Britain, a productive cost that permits them to be placed in the American market at a lower selling price than American manufacturers can meet. When the war is over two conditions will operate to aggravate this disadvantage to American manufacturers.

First, the great manufacturing countries will revive their export business with all possible haste, because the quicker it is restored the quicker will the financial and economic conditions of the country be started on the way to recovery to a normal status. An enormous amount of foreign labor will be introduced into the factories, due to the loss of men wage-earners in battle, and child labor will be increased, all tending to a material reduction in cost of production. Second, the Democratic tariff schedule enacted at the last session of Congress, which abnormal war conditions have prevented from working the great injury earlier, will come to the aid of the European manufacturer and prove absolutely annihilative to the American manufacturer of the same class. It is even reasonable to conjecture that the difference in European production cost after peace is concluded will absorb such customs charges as existed before the Underwood law was enacted and still maintain a preponderant advantage for foreign-made goods.

Another matter worthy of consideration is the "cartel system" that operates in Europe, a system whereby the firms of over a hundred different lines of industry have organized to effect greater economy in the distribution of their products to foreign markets. In addition Mr. Davies has discovered that "unfair" competition sometimes exists in Europe, that is, competitive methods under which manufacturers are placed in our markets at a price below cost in order to put our local industry out of business.

It was this latter practice among certain of our domestic industrial and commercial establishments with monopolistic tendencies that the Sherman law sought to stop. If we are to be afforded governmental protection from our own people, we also ought to be protected against foreigners. But this is the smallest menace we have facing us.

The real problem of the future is to overcome the difference in cost of putting European-made products in our domestic markets. We want most of all a rational, logical, tried way of making it physically possible for American capital to invest in industries to supply all our economic needs. The Federal Trade Commission has the power to investigate conditions and lay the results, with recommendations as to remedies, before Congress. Very few thoughtful citizens doubt that a protective tariff is the only available safeguard against complete industrial disaster in the very near future. If the Federal Trade Commission performs its self-acknowledged duties well it will pass a great responsibility to Congress.

THE PEACE PROPAGANDISTS.

A thousand addresses by more than a hundred lecturers and college professors, supplemented by literature for the promotion of a better understanding of international relations, have been arranged by the Carnegie Foundation for International Peace as a part of a nation-wide campaign this summer. More than 1500 Chautauqua platforms are to be the centers of debates and lectures on the subject, and it is estimated that the Chautauqua audiences will aggregate 4,000,000 persons.

Such is the announcement sent out by the Carnegie Peace Foundation. And we have before us a statement credited to Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, one of the leading agents of the Carnegie pacifist propaganda, which reads:

The work which we are undertaking is purely educational, scientific and nonpartisan. We want to know as a scientific fact whether it is true that man must go on settling his differences forever by war.

The statements display a lamentable lack of team work. Dr. Butler's pronouncement implies investigation, and in fact the endorsement refers to its coming campaign as a "nonpartisan investigation." Propaganda necessarily starts on previously-formed conclusions.

The endorsement has engaged specialists to lecture in thirty-nine universities, seventeen colleges, and eleven normal schools during summer sessions, the audiences being in the main teachers. Y. M. C. A. summer training schools also will be reached and forty "college international policy" clubs have been organized by the representatives of the endorsement. The necessity for war may be removed by college professors and lecturers talking on international law and practices, men who start out with the preconceived idea that war is unnecessary, but we doubt it. The distribution of the pacifist propaganda to teachers holds a probable effect that should not be lost sight of. The teachers in turn are expected to, and naturally will, transmit the doctrines and theories of the propagandists to the children and youth of America. Will it have an undesired effect on the national thought and morals of the younger generation?

Without discussing whether the conclusions of the propagandists are right or wrong, it is a misnomer to call their work "investigation" or "scientific." It should be remembered that the pacifists are preaching a doctrine that has never been found practicable and never appeared more hopeless than at present. The young are impressionable and we should guard against their being made the victims of theories that weaken the national spirit under the disguise of "scientific investigation."

The new municipal administration starts on the high speed. It took only fifteen minutes to revolutionize the administrative organization and by nightfall the reform wave had reached high enough to alter the face of the clock on the City Hall. The pace was so fast and furious as to indicate not merely a thorough-going and prearranged program, but a certain exhilaration in the carrying of it out. Of course, it is too soon to value changes as they may be reflected, first in administrative efficiency, and second in administrative cost. The salvages and the additions of yesterday's first session of the municipal board practically match each other with a slight margin to the good. But in this connection there arises an issue of legality with respect to certain new adjustments; and if this issue shall be determined adversely, the running expenses of the city upon the record of yesterday's achievements will go higher than before, somewhere between two and three thousand dollars per year. But the job is evidently not complete and before counting our chickens it will be well to wait until all of them are hatched. There is always the chance that in every "setting" there may be some bad eggs. As the Tribune has already remarked, in effect, the proof of this particular pudding will lie in the eating thereof. Mr. Davie's record began yesterday at noon. The public will better be able to estimate its quality half a year from now than at this time. In the meantime judgment should be in suspense.

A story printed in yesterday's Tribune, to the effect that British strategy has literally fenced the Straits of Dover by stretching a sunken net of steel between the island and the continent, recalls an interesting incident in American history. It will be recalled that during the war of 1812 fleets of British ships made frequent visits to the Atlantic Coast and had pretty much their own way wherever they landed. While American victories on the sea were notable, we made but a poor figure against the coast raids, as witness the burning of our Capital by Admiral Cockburn. It was deemed a matter of great importance to protect the middle and upper Hudson river and to that end there was stretched an iron chain from shore to shore beneath the surface of the water near West Point. Several links of this chain, crudely wrought by blacksmiths on local forges, are preserved as historic curiosities at Newburg and one or two other Hudson river towns.

BRYAN PEACE TALK HITS EX-PRESIDENTS

Former State Secretary at Carnegie Hall Makes Pleas to Laboring Men.

FLAVOR IS PRO-GERMAN.

Nebraska Urges U. S. Control of All Plants Manufacturing War Munitions.

(From The New York Sun.)
 William J. Bryan preached at Carnegie Hall last night for an hour and a half. His other topic was peace at any reasonable price.

He was the guest of the Central Labor Union bodies, whose members preceded him in short talks, but there was a distinct pro-German flavor about the speech. Bryan's attitude was that of a man favoring the German cause was enthusiastically applauded. Any reference to men of measures unsympathetic to the Teutonic allies were hastily hushed.

Mr. Bryan's appearance here, as the principal speaker at what was termed a labor mass meeting, was his first since his resignation as Secretary of State, and the announcement of his purpose to work for a crystallization of peace sentiment to be used as an influence upon President Wilson. His audience last night was reasonably large, but not large enough to fill the great auditorium and galleries of Carnegie Hall. There were many empty seats.

The ex-Secretary of State talked directly to laboring men. His prepared speech, which he supplemented with a more energetic extemporaneous address, urged labor union members to throw all of their influence against war talk and war agitators.

ATTACKS EX-PRESIDENTS.

He attacked the two living ex-presidents, Theodore Roosevelt and William H. Taft, for activities in behalf of preparedness or for advocating peace by forcible means. By invective and ridicule he provoked stormy hisses against Col. Roosevelt and Mr. Taft.

Mr. Bryan came out squarely for Government ownership of manufacturing plants that turn out the munitions and implements of war. It was this part of his address which aroused almost hysterical applause from the pro-German element of the audience. He gave his approval to resolutions calling upon the Government of the United States to take over private plants which manufacture war materials.

He pictured himself as a lone champion of high ideals who is being opposed by the rich and powerful special interests that profit from war—one "feeble man" standing against a multitude of giants. He bitterly attacked the newspapers and particularly the newspapers of this city for their attitude on international questions, branding them flatly as liars and as institutions which, for pecuniary profit, cared more for a headline than they did for the welfare of their country.

These denunciations were uproariously applauded and for the most part it seemed, sincerely. There was, however, a spirit of levity in some parts of the house. Certain interrupters insisted on shrieking, "Pretty work, Billy," and "Give 'em hell, Billy," and once there was a clear yell, "Sit 'em up, you Nebraska kid!"

WHY GOMPERS DIDN'T ATTEND THE MEETING

I have no hesitancy in saying to you that in my judgment there are no more men engaged in an effort to undermine or destroy these fundamentals of normal, human existence and development, I would not only fight to defeat it but prevail upon every red blooded, liberty and humanity loving man to resist to the last degree.—Extract from letter written by Mr. Gompers (see page 12 of the Tribune for full text of letter.)

IDEAL DOMESTIC CONDITIONS.

"The papers nowadays are full of sex hygiene matters and a lot of other subjects on the question of maternity, which we of Argentina never fool with," said Hans A. Joss, a delegate to the Pan-American Financial Congress from the Argentine, to a reporter in the East.

"As a wife the Argentine woman does not become merely the partner, but the companion of her leader, her husband. She has promised to obey, and she does obey, but she does so with feminine grace, with true womanly love and with respect for a man worthy of both. She does not go so far as the English woman, who calls her house 'my husband's home,' or the Spanish woman, satisfied to be her husband's doll; she is his own, but he is as much hers. She is not considered inferior to man, nor does she occupy an inferior position in the family. She differs in that from the woman of some European countries, whose inferior social position is due to her dependency upon man and her inability to depend for herself."

Learning It All.

A farmer strolled into a motor sales house. "What's that worth?" he asked, pointing to a small car.

"Five hundred dollars," was the reply. "And that?" pointing to a better car.

"Seven hundred and fifty dollars." "And that?" pointing to a seven-passenger, with a jerk of his thumb.

"That one is a car and is worth twelve hundred dollars." "I'll take it," said the farmer.

"The car is cash, you know," said the salesman.

"Yes, I got the money," said the farmer, as he pulled a roll of bills out of his pocket, peeled off twelve one-hundred-dollar bills and paid for the car. "Now, I'll show you how to drive the critter?"

"Sure," said the salesman, "that's a part of the sale."

So they started out and, after going three miles, overtook a man in a wagon with a mule team. The salesman tooted and honked and honked and tooted, but the man with the mules refused to heed.

Finally the farmer said: "This is my car, ain't it?"

"It is," said the salesman.

"And I paid for it?"

"You did."

"Then," said the farmer, "you run right over that sunnivaagun. That's the way automobile drivers always done with me." —Toronto (Kan.) Republican.

My Friend.

He was my friend. He understood all the vagaries of my mood. Say I was joyous, he was gay; if sad, he felt the selfsame way.

He held, with trusty common sense, all that I told, in confidence. He died. And now I look around. But such a friend is seldom found.

I miss his kindly presence, yet a dog like that is hard to get! —Eldredge Denison in Judge.

The Plain Truth.

"You have had seven appropriations for that river," complained the chairman of the committee. "What does it drain, anyhow?"

"The treasury," answered Congressman Grabbell.—Judge.

THOUGHTS ON LEAVING AN OLD BUILDING.

If men may mourn for broken walls As gods and little children do; I men may weep for wood and stone, Old friend, I weep this day for you!

The time-worn step, the twisted stair, What dreams have gone a-climbing there! The cluttered desk, the busy room, The story spinning on its loom, The voices and the clacking keys, The toll, the strife, the memories.

But now thy measured sands are spent, Fate's finger moves against thy wall. Thine honored history is done, And time writes final to it all.

The honest brick, the naked beams, The settled dust of ancient dreams: The bitter and the sudden west, The hands that served, the hearts that beat.

The old head bowed beneath its star— How dear a workman's memories are!

Seventh floors dim and aged eaves Was traced with many a driven pen The heartbeats of a hundred years, The moving pageantry of men!

Good now no more of triumphs won, Good friend, thy usefulness is done, Young heart that strode the stair to fame.

Old heart that could not quit the game, The book is closed wherein you write, The hour has struck. Give ye good-night! —Dana Burnett in the New York Evening Sun.

VARIETIES

Swat the Fly Eggs.

"Swat the fly" is a good war cry; but it is like locking the stable after the horse is stolen. There is a better one—"Swat the eggs." Probably every magazine and newspaper in the United States printed last season from one to a score of articles on the common house fly—the disease-bringer, the typhoid fly, the infantile paralysis fly; in a word, the twentieth century pest, an enemy of mankind. "Swat the fly" has become the slogan of the day.

For every fly killed in May there will be ten thousand less in June, a million less in July, and by September the most ambitious boy, eager to earn the prize for the greatest number of flies killed, couldn't possibly lift the progeny of this single fly which escaped him in the springtime.

The Injured Colonel.

One New Year's morning a Kentucky colonel, who is a regular guest of a Louisville hotel, came down to breakfast with a bandaged hand.

"What's the matter with the hand?" asked several friends.

"Confound it all!" exclaimed the colonel. "We had a little party last night, and one of the younger men got intoxicated and trod on my hand as he was walking across the room."

Civil Service in China.

One feature of President Yuan Shi-Kai's rule at Peking, says the Peking Daily News, which should ever be remembered to his credit is the constant solicitude he has shown for the improvement of the Civil Service of China. Not only has he addressed to the officials throughout the country frequent exhortations embodying the loftiest conceptions of duty, but he has not hesitated to sanction drastic punishment in several cases when trusted officials have been impeached for dishonesty or flagrant neglect of duty.

Japanese in China.

There are in China some 118,400 Japanese, of whom 52,900 are women. The following table appearing in the Japan Gazette shows the districts in which the Japanese are largely settled: Kwantung, 48,909; Antung, 19,441; Mukden, 16,899; Liaoyang, 39,326; Tientsin, 20,065; Newchwang, 6,517; Chanchung, 6,204; Harbin, 22,111; Tsitsihar, 1,553; Tientsin, 4,172; Shanghai, 11,138; Hankow, 1,626; Amoy, 1,536.

$10,000 OPERA HEARD IN SOUTH

Production Is Culmination of a Great Festival at Convention.

By Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, July 2.—The culmination of a series of musical festivals held during the week in connection with the biennial meeting of the National Federation of Musical Clubs was reached last night with the first performance of a new American grand opera, "Fairland." The opera, which won a $10,000 prize offered by several wealthy citizens of this city, is the work of Mordecai Parkes, professor of music at Yale University, and Brian Hooker. The principals who took part in the opening production were specially engaged for the four performances given in this city.

Alfred Merie of the Metropolitan Opera company was the music director.

The officers of the Federation already announced by the nominating committee were elected by the convention at large in the board of management as the place of holding the next biennial convention.

EPISCOPAL MISSION
FUND IS INCREASED

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, July 2.—The general mission board of the Episcopal church announced today that it has received $250,000 in contributions to its emergency fund since April. This is almost enough to meet a deficit of $254,000 which has existed for several years. The board hopes to collect $150,000 to be set aside as a loan fund to cover any future deficit.

Only 1700 of the 4400 Episcopal churches in the country share in this special fund plan.

WOMEN INTO NEWS

LOS ANGELES, July 2.—A handsome young dancing teacher and a young husband who wanted to make a fortune before he was 40 were the principals today in a "modern" divorce case. The decree was read in a divorce court at 10 o'clock.

The plaintiff was Mrs. Eva M. Barton. The defendant was Thomas V. Barton. He is in Pittsburg, while she has been a resident of Los Angeles for two years.

"We lived together in an excellent and expensive apartment in Pittsburg," Mrs. Barton told Judge Wood. "He gave me a large portion of his wages and I paid the bills."

"We disagreed constantly, however, over money matters. Then he left the apartment and began living in a hotel. He told me that he must stay there alone in order to save money and that he had to make his fortune before he was 40."

Several letters written to Mrs. Barton from Pittsburg by her husband were produced by Judge Wood and he then said: "It appears that Mr. Barton is a very hard working young man and that Mrs. Barton was dissatisfied with her allowance. The decree must be denied unless further evidence is shown."

MRS. A. G. VANDERBILT
PREPARING FOR STORK

NEW YORK, July 2.—Among the friends of Mrs. Alfred Vanderbilt it is whispered an interesting event will take place some time in the autumn.

An event where she is spending the season. It is understood preparations are under way for the expected event.

In case of the birth of a posthumous child a rearrangement of the estate left by one of the victims of the sinking of the Lusitania may be necessary.

FLOPPING WIFE IS MADE A DIFFICULTY

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—Mrs. Fay Carranza Molera, who is known in the vaudeville stage as "The California Spanish Girl," the wife of J. H. Molera, manager of the Swiss-American Wine Company, was indicted yesterday for the delinquency of her two children.

Mrs. Molera eloped to New York two months ago with Frank P. Terramorse, her assistant superintendent of the Goodyear Rubber Company. She took her children, 2 years old and 4 years old, with her.

She was arrested in New York June 21. One of the children was taken to the Home. She took the baby to jail with her. Terramorse deserted his wife and two children.

The elopement was the culmination of a friendship between the two families that began last spring. Terramorse and Mrs. Molera used to go together to a great deal of parties and were very friendly.

Terramorse is in business. Terramorse has been indicted for abandoning his family.

MEYERS DEPOSITION IS TAKEN FOR LAWSUIT

RENO, Nev., July 2.—Abraham L. Meyers' deposition was taken here yesterday for use in his wife's action to separate him from her.

He testified to owning clothing worth $250.00, and said he came to Reno from his wife's home in California.

Meyers is said to have communicated with his wife during the last twenty months, and said that he thought she was going to leave him for good.

Meyers is a Canadian or United States citizen he visited after he left San Francisco in October, 1912.

POVERTY DRIVES WOMAN TO DANCER'S GARB

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—The lure of Egypt—the purple shadows of desert nights and the soft light of the place chambers—their call is strong to the devotion of a woman.

But seldom has that call been answered as Mrs. Frank de Raimond Storey, the woman who has tossed thousands across the gaming tables at Monte Carlo.

Her husband, whose criticism of her gambling habit she has not yet made an international sensation.

"The Princess Sarina" bawls the ballroom in front of a Zone concession. The dances she never seen. She wriggles so beautiful. She wears an Egyptian costume that was smuggled into the country.

And the Princess Sarina is none other than Mrs. Frank de Raimond Storey. In a shimmering veil she steps forward and demonstrates the subtle movements of the "kooch."

Mrs. Storey has gone from the Egypt of a millionaire's wife to the Egypt of a Zone concession.

It was only five years ago that she married a grandson of the late Marquis de Raimond. Her husband was a Harvard graduate, a lawyer, a politician, and a social leader in New York and Newport and the most exclusive circles were open to her.

And now Mrs. Storey isn't even the star for another shiner more brilliant than the first.

"I could not starve," Mrs. Storey said yesterday when she was asked why she accepted a position as a Russian Egyptian dancer—there is a little difference.

"I was penniless when I came here. Why, I would have died if my friends had not taken me in and cared for me. Now I am able to work and am doing what I can to make a living."

"I danced in Cairo when I was a few years younger," Mrs. Storey confessed. "Men and women followed me in the streets then and I made more money in a night than I do now in a long time," she laughed triumphantly.

As she drew closer the wrap over her bare shoulders.

After Egypt the Storeys took a home in Armonk, on an exclusive Long Island shore among other homes of wealth. Then there was a separation and Mrs. Storey says she knew nothing of her husband until she was served in a divorce action last November. She came here to contest the action.

"I wonder if I could find Frank?" she asked. "He came back after the trial of the brief performances in the little theater. 'Oh, well, he loves some one else now, so what is the use of looking for him?'"

"I could not find him, but I do not know where he is, and how I am to get the money even to look for him?" she asked. "He is here, but he cannot get the divorce. I could prosecute him if I could find him, but what good would that do me?"

"I got along with the dance I used to give in Churchill's in New York. They wouldn't have let me dance like this there. But it's dancing, and something I get along with. I will stay here a little while longer. Then—I don't know what then."

"Step right up close," the ballroom man again is shouting, and Mrs. Storey goes quickly up the steps and he introduces her as:

"The Princess Sarina, gentlemen; the lovely Egyptian Princess, who wriggles so beautiful."

CAPTAIN OF "HAPPY FAMILY" SURPRISED

The members of the Happy Family Table, as one of the groups of the San Francisco Commercial Club is known, gave a surprise party to its captain, R. B. Swayne, at his home, 222 Lake boulevard, Wednesday. The gathering was also for the purpose of bringing together the wives of the members who comprise the club.

During the evening Captain Swayne and several of the guests provided musical entertainment, those who contributed to the program including Mrs. Swayne, Prosper F. Reiter, manager of the San Francisco Commercial Club, and Mrs. Reiter, who rendered operatic selections; Henry M. Hastings, who gave impersonations; Miss Marion Swayne, who rendered several pieces on the violin, and V. V. Stevenson, who told humorous stories.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. P. P. Reiter, Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. O. Bordwell, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. E. Thatcher, Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Bowles, Mr. and Mrs. G. D. MME. KOWALSKI MAKES
BIG HIT AT ORPHEUM

One of the biggest hits on the Orpheum bill this week is being made by Madame Mae Kowalski, whose beautiful soprano voice is heard to advantage in several operatic selections and ballads. Mae Kowalski is the wife of Conductor Kowalski of the Orpheum orchestra. She has just returned from New York, where she sang in a number of big productions. Gifted with an unusual soprano voice, Madame Kowalski renders a pleasing selection from "Ernani" and follows this with the beautiful "Song of the Soul."

Her biggest hit, however, is scored by the beautiful ballad, entitled "California Roses." The melody and words for this ballad were written by Lady Mary Webster, an Oakland composer, who is evidently destined to win unusual laurels in the land of song. The ballad "California Roses" is acclaimed so heartily at each performance that Madame Kowalski has determined to retain it in her repertoire throughout the season.

Several Eastern music publishers have asked for the rights to the melody and it will soon appear in published form, although at present its use is restricted to Madame Kowalski.

STARTS ON LONG WALK,
DISAPPEARS ON WAY

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—William Richardson started to walk from San Francisco to New York in March, 1914, and is apparently walking yet. He never reached the metropolis and after waiting in vain for him to appear his mother, Mrs. James Richardson, of 417 Taylor street, Brooklyn, requested the police of this city to find him.

Richardson was making the tramp from Newark to Ocean City, N. J., on a $4.00 a day, when he was last seen. He was seen somewhere on route but he has not been heard of since. He is said to be near Maryland and will be in the vicinity of the Atlantic Ocean.

Delegates to Conference to Be Guests at Luncheon at Hotel Oakland.

Disfranchised women who are to attend the International Peace Conference in San Francisco next week will be honored at a luncheon to be given by the Oakland Civic Center at the Hotel Oakland on Friday, July 2. These two interesting women will make addresses on women's part in the peace movement and Mrs. Snowden will especially discuss the conditions in Europe.

Randy, Helen, 2, cut and bruised.

SLIGHTLY INJURED.

Cotter, Russell, 5.
Dwyer, James, 5.
Isaacs, Samuel, 7.
Koehe, Carman, 10.
With the death of Joseph F. Forderer, former mayor of Alameda, last night, the casualties of the accident in which an automobile filled with children from the Fred Finch orphanage was crushed into by an electric train was increased to two. Of the fourteen children who were treated at Forderer car, all of them more or less seriously injured, it is believed that they will all recover.

Forderer, who was president of the orphanage, died last night at the Fabiola hospital. His skull was fractured in the accident and from the first no hope was held out for his recovery.

The children of the orphanage had been taken out for an automobile ride by Forderer and the party was returning home at the time of the accident. In some unaccountable manner the automobile became stalled on the railroad tracks and Motorman Skinner was unable to stop the train in time to avert the collision.

Elizabeth Reader, aged 8; Lilas Dolan, aged 7, and Marcella Chappell, aged 10, who were treated at the county infirmary by Dr. C. A. Willis, will all recover, it was stated today. Marcella Chappell was the most seriously injured of the children who were treated at the infirmary.

The accident, which occurred at Sixty-third avenue and Bond street, was one of the most tragic of its kind which has occurred in Oakland for nearly five years, since the wreck on the Leona Heights line of the traction company on Memorial day, 1911.

FORDERER FUNERAL.
ALAMEDA, July 2.—The untimely death of Joseph Forderer has shocked his many friends in this city, where he was highly respected as a citizen and man of public affairs. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the

COUPON IS GOOD AS CHECK AT A BANK

Forget to Clip Out Travelogue Pass if You Want to Waste Money

Comes now another chance to save money! And this time the chance arrives where it has rarely come before—in the field of amusement.

A really big, high class and educational attraction opens next week at the Macdonald theater in the travelogue. Then he went into a new field in connection with the newspapers.

On the first page of The Tribune each day is a coupon and it does the business. With this coupon the price of a reserved seat on the first floor is 25 cents, or an unreserved seat in both balconies, 10 cents.

No part of the 10 cents, 25 cents, or 50 cents goes to The Tribune. The paper isn't making a cent from the travelogue. It is giving its readers the chance to make the money. Clip the coupon!

Realizing the value of the travelogue from the educational viewpoint and the benefit they will be to the community, The Tribune arranged with Roberson for the coupon engagement. To make it successful, The Tribune has agreed to donate advertising space, thus bringing in large crowds and making it possible to reduce the cost. It's a good will proposition, pure and simple.

Until six years ago, Travelogue Roberson was on the live-on platform, one of the biggest attractions in the country. At that time he was getting all the way from 50 cents to $1.50 a seat for his travelogue. Then he went into a new field in connection with the newspapers.

No person can lose on a Roberson travelogue. They are rated among the best in the country. Roberson has made a reputation for himself, not only as a traveler and travel-talker, but as an artist as well. His pictures—particularly his colored views—are ranked as the best in the country.

What is more, the subjects he is offering during the first week of his engagement are pertinent—just the countries about which every one wants to know—Germany, England, Italy, Belgium and Russia. He is going to discuss the war and show pictures relating to it. All may learn of the great struggle, but see none of its horrors.

Reserved seats may be secured in advance, the box office at the Macdonald theater being open from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. daily. Clip the coupons and get reserved seat tickets early!

AGED AUNT SAYS BOY IS ECCLES'

Testimony Delivered to Prove Alleged Right in the Estate.

OGDEN, Utah, July 2.—Mrs. Flora P. Nielson, aunt of Mrs. Margaret Geddes, testified today as the second witness in the suit against the David Eccles estate, brought by Mrs. Geddes' 16-year-old son.

First Methodist Church of this city, of which he was a member and trustee. He leaves his wife, Mrs. Caroline Forderer, and nine children: Mrs. F. A. Hammer-smith, George S. Joseph F. Forderer, Mrs. William Tuder, Mrs. Byron Priest, Wesley, Arthur, Emma and Ruby Forderer. He was a native of Baden, Germany, and 65 years of age.

advert, who is endeavoring to establish that he is a son of David Eccles and entitled to one thirty-third interest in the estate, valued at more than $5,000,000.

Mrs. Nielson testified that before the birth of the boy David Eccles had acknowledged to her in the presence of Mrs. Geddes that he was the father of the unborn child and that, after the birth of the boy, he visited Mrs. Nielson's home and in the presence of the witness, her husband, her grandmother and Mrs. Geddes' daughter, had acknowledged the child.

The cross-examination had not been finished when court adjourned, and because of Mrs. Nielson's advanced age, she being about 80 years old, it was agreed between the attorneys and court that in case of her fatal illness following before she resumed the stand, it should be considered that her testimony was complete.

During the re-cross-examination of Mrs. Geddes the admission of the letter from the Plain City bishop's court of the Mormon church, providing for her excommunication if she did not reveal the name of the father of her child was read and admitted. Mrs. Geddes testified that she had not been excommunicated and did not reveal to the bishop's court the paternity of her son.

WILSON BUSY 'KEY' TO SAVE ON STATE AFFAIRS $50,000 ON POWER

CORNISH, N. H., July 2.—President Wilson spent most of this forenoon in his study at Harlakenden house, working on State Department matters and other official business sent here from Washington. The president read carefully reports from the State Department on the Armenian incident, studied communications concerning Mexico, and examined a report from Secretary Lansing on a mission laid before the State Department by a committee of importers protesting against alleged British interference with trade between the United States and other neutral countries. This information will be considered carefully in the preparation of the final draft of the note soon to be sent to Great Britain.

Later President Wilson and Dr. Cary T. Grayson braved the rain and walked through the woods surrounding the president's summer estate. It was said at Harlakenden house today that the president expected to remain here another week unless pressing business should intervene.

President Wilson's proclamation speaking national interest in the exposition to commemorate fifty years' achievements of the negro race, which is to open at Richmond, Va., next week, was issued from the White House today. In it he said:

"The occasion has been recognized as of national importance by Congress through an appropriation of $55,000 to aid in its promotion and consummation. The action of Congress in this matter indicates very happily the desire of the nation as well as the people of Virginia, to encourage the negro in his efforts to solve his industrial problem."

"The National Negro Exposition is designed to demonstrate his progress in the last fifty years and to emphasize his opportunities. As president of the United States, I bespeak the active interest of the nation in the exposition and trust that every facility will be extended to the leaders whose earnest work has made the undertaking possible."

SUSPECT TAKEN TO S. F.
RICHMOND, July 2.—W. F. Wolsey, held here on suspicion, was taken to San Francisco today by Detective Walter Ryan. The police of that city intend to investigate his record.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—The San Francisco-Oakland Terminal railway operating the Key system ferry and street car system of Alameda county, will affect a saving of nearly $50,000 a year under the terms of a new contract filed with the railroad commission today for electric energy. The power for the Key system is now to be supplied by the Consolidated Electric Company, a subsidiary corporation of the Great Western Power Company, which has made arrangements to take over the properties of the United Light and Power Company.

The latter concern has heretofore sold electric energy to the Key system. This contract with the Key system, entered into in the latter part of 1911, was declared excessive and unreasonable in a recent decision of the state railroad commission. Under the terms of the new contract the Consolidated Electric Company proposes to sell electric current to the Key system at the rate of $40 mills per kilowatt hour. The agreement will run for seven and a half years, terminating December 31, 1922.

Under the new arrangement the United Light and Power Company leases for a nominal sum the steam plant station owned by the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railway. Under the agreement proposed between the Consolidated Electric Company and the railway, the lease on the steam plant will be canceled and its possession returned to the railway on August 1.

CHICAGO LUMBER AND BRICK YARDS STOP DELIVERIES

CHICAGO, July 2.—Forty-three of Chicago's largest lumber yards and sixty-five brick-making plants were closed for business today, throwing several thousand men out of employment.

The establishments will not make deliveries of any building materials until the strike of 15,000 carpenters is settled. The eleventh-hour decision of the allied building construction and material interests to continue manufacturing operations, but not selling placed a more optimistic aspect on the outlook against the carpenters and other striking building trades workers.

Pacific Destroyers Exceeded in Scores

WASHINGTON, July 2.—Results of the target practice of the first Pacific destroyer division, announced by the Navy Department today, show that while the scores were slightly better than those of last year they were not as good as those made this year by the destroyers of the Atlantic fleet.

WILL RELATE SINKING OF STEAMER BY GERMANS

Captain J. C. Eagles, who was on the ill-fated steamer Drummond, of the Hood-Rolph Company of San Francisco, which was sunk off the German coast of South America last spring, will relate the experience of his crew and himself at the weekly luncheon of the manufacturers' committee of the Oakland Commercial Club at the Hotel Oakland next Tuesday.

Captain Eagles will also tell of opportunities for foreign trade.

SUMMER STUDENTS SWIMMING MAD

All Absorbing Course Represents 40 Per Cent of Senior Conversation.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Irvine
 2 - What is the all-absorbing interest of the students at the summer school?
 Is it Dooks?
 Wrong.
 Is it pipe courses?
 No.
 Is it football?
 Wrong again.
 What is it?
 Swimming. Yes, swimming. If you don't believe me, turn to the back of the Student's Union yearbook, the Golden Lines in the Summer Session (California), the students' paper, and see. Here they are: "Men Women Take Swimming," "Barriers from Pool," "Men's Swimming Class Divided," "She Gets in the Swim."

lines in the Summer Season Californian, the students' paper, and see. Here are two Women Take Swimming "Hear the News," "New Swimming Class Divided," "The Girls in the Swim," "Here's When You Swim," "Men in the Swim Too," "Dry Swimming."

And the conversation of the students will bear out the impression given by the headlines. The results of a test conducted by a member of the class in Journalism, which consisted in re-creating a bench test, an hour, show that 16 percent of students can't swim, 33 percent can swim, and 51 percent had to do with swimming. The test was given in the 30 and 30 percent with "high brow and miscellaneous" topics. "Research Into the Elements of Swimming" was the topic.

Both men's and women's pools are thronged daily by eager beginners in the natatorial art. Miss Loraine Cadwell, in charge of swimming instruction for women, has been obliged to obtain five assistants. Eugene Brandsten at the men's pool is kept on the hop all day instruct-

It could all be very lovely but for the methods prescribed by the instructors, which have met the disapproval of many of the students. The disapproval of some of the former, who happens to be a journalist as well, voices her disapproval in an editorial in the "Swimming":

DRY SWIMMING.

Now-a-days in all the leading universities one must swim for a bachelors degree. One must learn to swim, to plunge through Latin and dive into Greek or wade through mathematics. But now one must swim for a bachelors degree. It is easy to swim in summer school.

One registers with hundreds of others and swims in four directions whose simplicity rivals the Chinese alphabet. Then with eyes upon the floor, bal-and swim! Out with the left! Down with the right! We must have proper co-ordination of the muscles. Meanwhile the stool like hot bread lies heavy on one's stomach. The student

After an hour's practice should swim on her back. With proper training the stool will soon learn the proper rate of speed in revolving so that the young swimmer is not endangering life and limb. But a lost limb would be a small price to pay for learning to swim. And then a wooden leg would be sure to keep the owner aloft.

Enough of dry land. One learns to blow bubbles in the wash basin and exhale under a sink upon occasion without any difficulty. In accomplishing this, the student is at the sloping end of the family bath tub and dive. The feet should be anchored to keep the student from dashing out her brains against the other end of the tub. Then lie on your back under the water and looking up through it, read your next day's directions.

It is so easy to swim in summer school.

ANOTHER SAD PROTEST.

And in the style of Walt Mason comes another protest against "Advanced" sections of swimming in a communication to the editor:

I've heard of high brow courses in food and cookery; of work in household economics and modern millinery, of degrees they give for baseball, tennis, track and for skillful playing as a football back. But the course that surprised me and sent me a-spinning was the summer course in the science of swimming.

Now, I have swum for many moons in rivers, bays and eke lagoons. Yea, I have swum full many a mile and thought me skilful all the while. But to thee swimming Prof. my strokes are wrong, my skill natatorial is not worth a so'g. My arms are weak, my kick is poor, and I am but a swimming boor. So away from the pool for such a dub; I must practice swimming in my own bath tub. I must learn to flex my stiffened toes.

breathe in through the mouth and out through the nose.
Last night I started out with cheer.
I laid me down upon my ear, I opened my mouth full wide and long, for "to breathe" through the nose is entirely wrong." The air helpless there waited, three flies flew in and then I swallowed; and, rising, (dreadful 'tis to tell)—so I won't.

FIGHTING TO PROVE HER CLAIM
'BIG TIM'S GIRL' IS VERY BUSY

ADA SULLIVAN, WHO DECLARES THAT SHE IS THE DAUGHTER OF THE "BIG BOSS," TIM SULLIVAN, AND IS SEEKING A SHARE OF HIS FORTUNE.

NEW YORK, July 2.—Vill pretty Ada Sullivan, declared to be a daughter of the late "Big Boss" political boss of the Bowery, finally prove her claim to a share in the big estate of the dead politician, that included an interest in the Sullivan-Considine theatrical combine and vast realty and other New York holdings.

This is the question that is the topic of New York. Miss Sullivan declares that she can produce the proof. The relatives of the dead man say that they can prove otherwise. The dispute has become one of the most remarkable will cases in New York court history, and lawyers are lining up for a battle royal over the dead man's fortune. The case will come to trial in a short time.

CO-OPERATION IN DISTRICT SCHOOL

Girls Teach Boys to Sew and Boys Instruct Girls in Garden Work.

MAON, Mo., July 2.—Over at La Porte, Macon county, is a district school operated like a partnership concern. The teacher and members of the board are the directors and the students are the "holders." Miss Goldie Ready is the teacher. She draws $3 a month, the top salary paid district school teachers in Macon county, and has proven herself worth every cent of it and more.

On taking employment as teacher of the La Porte school Miss Ready laid down this principle, which the board heartily approved: "There are to be no bosses; all of us are to form an active working company for the purpose of education." That meant the student was to be a factor in the upbuilding of the school as well as the board and the teachers; each was to be held individually responsible to do his or her part in the adding of features, of preserving order and of aiding in instruction. It was to be just like a good, big family, all earnestly bent on reaching a given point.

Now there is a sewing machine and the girls aid the boys in learning how to sew on buttons and mend rents in clothing. The boys help the girls in manual training and in garden work. Of course Miss Ready is the active supervisor and directing head of it all, but her method is to implant in every pupil strong sense of individual responsibility and personal pride in making La Porte the banner district school of the county.

Parents respond generously. The students and board members look to this partnership school idea enthusiastically. If Miss Ready took a notion she needed anything to add to the attractiveness of the school, or to aid in the work there were a dozen persons to get it for her. An organ, sewing machine, sewing tables and chairs, paper for the walls, cement walk and a porch, grading of the yard—all were willingly and generously provided by the patrons of the school.

Miss Ready has among her older students what she calls an "advisory board." On certain days in the week she meets this board of eager young folks and they discuss ideas calculated to advance the work along practical lines. Several school journals, newspaper and farm magazines are taken and read by the pupils and things which have been found advantageous in other sections of the country are considered with reference to their adoption by La Porte. The members of the board are proud of everything

Herman Hirsch, 62 years of age, was arrested today by the police on the charge of badger trick. He was accused of having caused the arrest of a man, who he alleged had lost $100.

According to the story told by Hirsch to the police, he went to the "Barn" in the morning, and was engaged in badgering. He was then approached by a man, who he alleged had lost $100.

Trapped in this apparently compromising position, Hirsch made a dash for it, and was followed by the man, who he alleged had lost $100.

Now Are the Days
Children Need Care

Summer Heat Dangerous to Little Ones If Bowels Are Neglected

A mother cannot do better for her child than to keep it from a summer fever by regular habits, not only as a preventive against much of the illness to which children are more or less subject, but also to insure their health in later life.

Normal activity of the bowels is the basis of sound health. This is especially true with children in hot weather. Do not neglect any tendency they may show to constipation, but promptly administer a gentle laxative, that will carry off the congested waste without shocking the system.

An excellent remedy for this purpose is the combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and sold in drug stores for only fifty cents a bottle. It does not contain opium, narcotics, or harmful habit-forming drugs of any description, acts easily and naturally without griping or other discomfort and is positive in its effect.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin has been the standard remedy in countless homes for a quarter of a century and thousands of mothers testify to its virtues. If you have never used it, get a bottle from your druggist or write for a free trial bottle to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 423 Washington St., St. Louis, Mo.

FATHER AND SON MEET
AFTER TWO DECADES

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., July 2.—After a separation of nineteen years, Joseph Roby of Hoopston and his son, J., were reunited here. The parents separated when the youth was 13 months old and the mother was awarded custody of the child. The son has been making his home in Bloomington for several years. Recently the father expressed a desire to meet the son. He offered the boy a home and position, which were accepted.

U. S. HAS BALANCE DESPITE DEFICIT

Income Tax to Rescue, and Excess in Treasury Assures Stability.

WASHINGTON, July 2.—The second business year of the present administration, which closed yesterday, showed a deficit of $35,843,501 compared with a surplus for the year ending June 30, 1914, of $134,838,471.

Notwithstanding the deficit on the year's business, the treasury now has an income tax balance of $1,000,000,000, which is a record and every prospect that it will be increased possibly by $1,000,000,000 in the next ten days. It is evident that there will be no issue of Panama canal or other government bonds to replenish the coffers, for many months to come.

Questions relative to the last fiscal year amounted to $209,265,107, out of which $11,000,000 under the estimate made by Secretary McAdoo several months ago, and $1,000,000,000 below the amount received from this source in 1914.

The income tax provision months. The total receipts up to the close of business last night were $1,000,000,000, of which $1,000,000,000 came in June 30. This is more than $5,000,000 above the total received from the tax last year and there remain ten days of grace in which it may lawfully be paid.

Officials are confident that during this period there will be received in income tax payments at least $5,000,000, which would bring the total $5,000,000 above the amount estimated.

The corporation income tax apparently will be about the same as that received last year.

Contrary to current reports, it now develops that the income tax law has proved an even better revenue producer than was expected.

Another thing pointed out tonight by treasury officials was that the postoffice department, usually self-sustaining, has run behind this year and has received advances from the treasury amounting to $1,000,000,000.

Including the Panama canal expenditures, deducting the amount advanced the postoffice department, the treasury has a balance of about $1,000,000,000.

Total expenditures for the year were $1,000,000,000, compared with $1,000,000,000 last year.

MAN FALLS OVERBOARD, BUT IS PROMPTLY SAVED

EUREKA, July 2.—At least one of the crew of the barkentine Mary Winkelman, when she arrives in the islands will be able to take his oath that he had a bath before he left Eureka. However, it was an involuntary one and in salt water at that and the luxury of a shower was a delay of a half hour or more in getting out of Humboldt bay. It was just as the barkentine, in tow of the association tug Ranger, got into the entrance and headed for the bar that a man was seen to go overboard from the Mary Winkelman. The tug slowed up on her tow.

From the life saving station it was observed that the man in the vicinity of the barkentine suddenly became covered with a miscellaneous assortment of things that would float. It seemed that the man was struggling to keep afloat, and that he was gathering up all these things and returning them to the vessel that caused the delay.

At the meantime, the sailor, after swimming in the water, was brought to the impediement from the barkentine, calmly bobbed around with it until Billy Asman, an employee at the south jetty, put off in a rowboat and brought him ashore, none the worse for his doubling.

When the government launch Clyde came with him for the vessel on its route putting in a half hour cruise, chairs, and other articles of buoyant ship's furniture that had been promptly jettisoned by the crew to save their shipmate's life.

CHARTER FORMULATED BY KNOCKERS' CLUB

HART, Mich., July 2.—A "Knockers" club has been organized in this village, and each member has been requested to sign the following:

I believe that nothing is right, I believe that the town is wrong, I believe that I alone have the right idea. The town is wrong, the editor is wrong, the teachers are wrong, the people are wrong, the things they are doing are wrong and they are doing them in the wrong way. I believe that I could do better than they do. If they don't I will get a lot of fellows like myself and we will have a law passed to make them do things the way we want them done.

I do not believe the town ought to be ruled by a few men, I believe in fighting every public improvement and in spoiling everybody's pleasure. I am always to the front in opposing things and never yet have I advanced an idea or supported a movement that would make people happier or add to the pleasure of man, woman or child. I am opposed to fun and am happiest at a funeral. I believe in starting reforms that will take all the joy out of life. It's a sad world and I am glad of it. Amen."

CALIFORNIA QUARANTINE ON CATTLE MODIFIED

SACRAMENTO, July 2.—The quarantine declared by the state of California, when the hoof and mouth disease among cattle broke out in the East, to prevent the shipment of diseased stock into this state, has been modified by a proclamation issued by Governor Hiram Johnson and State Veterinarian Charles Keane. The modification allows cattle to be shipped from certain states on inspection and from other states on permit.

Under the terms of the proclamation, cattle may be shipped from Nebraska, North Dakota, South Dakota and Wyoming into the state of California in all cases where a permit of a state inspector finds there is no trace of the foot and mouth disease.

It now will be possible for eastern exporters in the states named to send their prize cattle and stock to the Exposition in San Francisco for exhibit purposes.

DROGGED HER THROUGH DANCE HALL, SHE CLAIMS

BERKELEY, July 2.—Because her husband dragged her violently through the crowd at the Beardsley dance Saturday night, and on Sunday threw her to the floor with great force, according to the complaint just filed in the superior court, Mrs. Elizabeth Brown is now suing T. N. Harvey for her attorney.

Mrs. Brown claims that she and her husband were dancing at the Beardsley dance Saturday night when Harvey, who was then dancing with her, suddenly dragged her through the crowd and threw her to the floor. She claims that she was injured and that her husband was also injured.

MILKMAID BRIDE WEARIES OF DAIRY

Music of Tin Pail Orchestra No Longer Attracts Her Soul.

SAN JOSE, July 2.—A divorce complaint answer filed here Antonio Irlanda, a wealthy dairyman, reminds his wife that treatment which she now objects to as being cruel was looked upon by both as romantic in the days of their courtship.

In her complaint filed secretly a few days ago, Mrs. Irlanda stated that she was compelled to do a great deal of milking a large dairy herd. Her husband's wealth is estimated at $500 a month. Irlanda's income, she states, is about $100 a month.

The dairyman in his answer asks his wife to remember that he was milking cattle and she was milking him also when they met, that they continued to follow the same vocation when he was a doctor and she was a nurse, and that the milk against the bright tin pails was music to their ears during early married life.

The defense sought to prove that Moreno died of typhoid fever. The coroner's jury returned a verdict to the effect that

SAN JOSE RODEO WILL BE HUMANE

But Despite Restriction Merry
Time Is Promised at Big Pageant.

SAN JOSE, July 2.—Taking cognizance of a storm of objections from sentimentalists, the committee in charge of the rodeo feature of the three-day celebration starting here tomorrow have ruled that spurs must be taped by all riders and anyone bringing blood from a bucking horse or bull will be prosecuted by the committee itself. This recommendation was made by Sheriff A. B. Lange.

Old timers from all of the coast range cattle country, as well as professional riders, will be present. (Cheyenne, Wyo., and in the Pendleton, Ore., roundups have entered for the bucking contests, wild horse races, relay races, steeplechase and other large sports.

The streets of San Jose are ablaze today with the vivid colors worn by the cattlemen and the cowboys. Stage coaches used here in gold mining days have been resurrected and will be drawn by eight-horse teams. Wild stock is being driven in from remote mountain ranches, including steers which have rarely looked upon human beings and horses which have never felt the weight of a saddle. Famous bucking outfits who have made the Salinas rodeo famous, as well as the best of the Salinas rodeo riders, have been obtained for the San Jose show.

The miner died of typhoid contracted as a result of injuries received in a mine accident.

Funeral of Late Joseph Campbell
Will Be Held Tomorrow.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—The late Joseph C. Campbell, a leading jurist, will be buried tomorrow in the city of San Francisco.

The late Joseph C. Campbell was one of the striking figures of the California bar. Identified with Alaskan mining interests, known as a politician of the old school, and noted as a practitioner, he has been identified with a number of famous cases. He was counsel for the defense in the Coeur d'Alene mining case, in the early '90s, handled the noted Davis case, organized the law firm of Reddy, Campbell and Metcalf, and in 1910 became senior member of the firm of Campbell, Weaver, Shelton and Levy. He served two terms as district attorney of San Joaquin county, and was once chairman of the Republican State Committee.

He was born in Oxford, Ohio, in 1852, his father being a Presbyterian minister. He studied law at the office of his uncle, Joseph Claybaugh. He was one of the "Old Guard" in the Bohemian Club. He was a thirty-third degree Mason and a Knight Templar.

He is survived by a widow, Mrs. Anna Campbell, a stepdaughter, Miss Gertrude Campbell, and a son, Robert Campbell of Chicago. His son and daughter-in-law, a daughter of Judge E. H. Gary, the steel magnate, were at the bedside.

ALONG CAME RUTH, AND CRASH! SEE THE SNAKES!

OLIVET, Mich., July 2.—When Miss Ruth Spencer of Michigan City accidentally tipped over a box containing Dr. John A. Dexter's collection of thirty snakes in his biology laboratory at Olivet College, she created a scene of confusion.

Professor Dexter had been offering $1 apiece for all varieties of snakes caught in Eaton county not already in his collection. The result was that he had rattlesnakes, blue-racers, water-moccasins, and others, and others reposing in a large box in his laboratory. The box stood on a high table.

Miss Spencer came in to the classroom looking for the professor, and setting the box on the desk, she turned to look at the snakes. She tried standing on tiptoe, lost her balance and tumbled the snakes nearly on top of herself and all over the floor. With a scream she ran out of the room.

Meanwhile Professor Dexter was conducting a physics class in a room below, when suddenly a five foot blue-racer which had crawled through the vent hole dropped with a thud on his demonstration table. The class was automatically dismissed at once.

When Dr. Dexter arrived at his room he recaptured most of the reptiles. But one or two escaped, three garter snakes and a small black water-snake are still at large in the science building.

JUDGE ASSIST IN UNITING COUPLE

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—Miss Florence Adams, daughter of 3523 22nd and Mrs. C. H. Adair, of 1391 Second avenue, became the bride of Dr. B. C. Kingsbury last night at a secret wedding performed at the St. Francis Hotel by Judge George E. Crothers.

Following the aid of Percy Holmes, who attended Dr. Kingsbury, and Miss Marie McCarthy, who stood up with Miss Adair, the couple hurried to Judge Crothers' residence and hustled away in a taxicab to the hotel, where the ceremony was performed.

The newlyweds then telephoned to the bride's parents and told them that they were married.

Dr. Kingsbury is a member of the faculty of the San Francisco College of Physicians and Surgeons, and his bride is an accomplished musician. The couple will take quarters at a private hotel for some weeks and will then depart on a honeymoon through the northern part of the state.

NEW COUNSEL TO FIGHT FOR BECKER

M. T. Manton Not to Represent
Rosenthal Slayer in U. S.
Supreme Court.

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, July 2.—The next step in the efforts to save Charles Becker from execution for the murder of Herman Rosenthal will be the selection of new counsel to represent him in an appeal to the United States Supreme Court.

Martin T. Manton, who has represented Becker up to the present and who has announced that he will retire from the case, was not prepared today to say what attorney will take Becker's appeal to the Supreme Court.

Mr. Manton would not admit that Becker had offered to tell Governor Whitman the names of those who had up to that time been helping Becker in his graft dealings in which Becker was concerned. It was learned from Mr. Manton that Mr. Becker will not go to Albany to make a personal appeal to Governor Whitman.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—The next step in the efforts to save Charles Becker from execution for the murder of Herman Rosenthal will be the selection of new counsel to represent him in an appeal to the United States Supreme Court.

This statement was made yesterday by a naval official, based on the plan of the general board and of the plans of the navy department. The official said that the navy department now realizes that the plan to build a fleet of submarines is a means of offense as well as defense. It is a fleet of submarines, he said, that will be the most powerful of the fleet of the future. The construction of the 200,000-ton submarine fleet is a plan of the navy department. The new underwater fighters to be stationed here will be the most powerful of the fleet of the future. They will be able to steam from 2,000 to 3,000 miles without replenishing their fuel supply. EDITOR ARRESTED FOR WRITING NOTE

Letters Addressed to President
Indicate Harmless Mania,
Chief Flynn Says.

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, July 2.—Alfonso Chrostowsky, a Polish editor, was arrested at his home last night on charges of sending annoying and abusive letters to President Wilson at Washington. The arrest was made on a warrant sworn out by Secret Service agents. Chrostowsky was locked up at police headquarters.

Chrostowsky, who said he is 48 years old and is contributing an editorial to the Morning Star, a Polish publication which he says he founded in Cleveland 24 years ago, was taken into custody at his home.

William J. Flynn, chief of the secret service, said that Chrostowsky had addressed four abusive letters to President Wilson, complaining that the president and other government officials were in league to do him harm. Chief Flynn said that he believed the man was harmless. He added that there was no connection between the arrest of Chrostowsky and that of Rudolph Malick, the Austrian, who was indicted today on a charge of sending a threatening letter to President Wilson.

Woman Has Chauffeur Jailed; Says Theft

Mrs. Lella McArthur of Tacoma, who has been a guest at the Hotel Menlo in Oakland, turned Joseph Dietz, a chauffeur, over to the police last night on a charge of having taken jewelry from her while he was driving her on a trip yesterday. According to Mrs. McArthur's story to the police, Dietz took the jewelry while they were on their way to Alamo. When they arrived there he attempted to turn her over to the sheriff, asserting that she was mentally unsound and tried to give the sheriff one of her diamond rings with the explanation that she had given it to him, but that he thought she was mentally unsound.

The two returned to Oakland and Mrs. McArthur caused Dietz's arrest. Some of her jewelry was found on his person but he declared that she had given it to him. Dietz is being held pending an investigation.

Some of the jewelry said to have been stolen was found in Mrs. McArthur's room at the Hotel Menlo.

JITNEY SPOILS MAN'S CHANCE TO BE HERO

Ralph B. Myers would have been a hero last night if he hadn't been hit by a jitney. But mechanical horsepower beat out the old style again and before Myers could catch the runaway animal he fell a victim to the jitney. He was treated at the emergency hospital by Dr. Cook for injuries to his right leg. Myers lives at 1235 Eighty-third avenue and the accident occurred at Twentieth street and Telegraph avenue.

WED IN SAN RAFAEL.

Leaving their homes yesterday for a trip to the Exposition, Ralph Boyd, son of Mrs. H. Boyd of Castro street, and Miss Goldie Robinson, a pretty telephone operator of Oakland, went to San Rafael instead and were married. They returned last evening and broke the news to their parents, who were surprised, but stated that they were released at the marriage.

CRUSHED BY STEAMSHOVEL.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—James Murdoch, of 2111 Ninth avenue, Oakland, was crushed between the banks and a steamshovel while working in Twin Peaks Tunnel this morning. He incurred a compound fracture of the right ankle and several bones, which were treated at the Park Emergency Hospital.

DOCTOR ROBBED AT TASK.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—While Dr. Donald D. Privett was removing the organs of a patient who had taken an overdose of morphine, and was on the operating table at the Harbor hospital, this morning, a sneak thief entered the physician's room at the hospital and stole a diamond pin, valued as a keepsake.

TO RETURN FUND.

CHICO, July 2.—Ralph, who has made defendants in a suit to compel them to pay back money they drew from the county to make junket trips to the Panama-Pacific and San Diego expositions, the supervisors of Yuba county yesterday formally decided to refund the money, the district attorney to determine the exact amounts.
